About the European Judicial Training Network

Founded in 2000 by the Bordeaux Charter, the European Judicial Training Network (EJTN) is an international non-profit association governed by Belgian law. EJTN unites judicial training institutions from all EU Member States to pursue a general European interest: that of developing and implementing training and exchange activities for European justice practitioners. These activities cover initial and continuous training and are delivered in close cooperation with EJTN members, associate members, observers and partners.

EJTN plays a vital role in promoting networking among its members and serves as a key platform for them to share experiences and exchange ideas in areas of joint interest.

Message from the EJTN Secretary General

2025 was a landmark year for the European Judicial Training Network: for a quarter of a century, EJTN has stood at the heart of judicial training and cooperation in Europe, supporting judges, prosecutors and court staff in carrying out their responsibilities independently, impartially and in full respect of the Rule of Law. Over 25 years, together with our members, associate members, observers and partners, EJTN has evolved to meet the changing training needs and challenges of European justice systems.

The year 2025 was no different. Through a range of impactful training activities, EJTN continued its mission to foster judicial cooperation, mutual trust and a common European judicial culture, while contributing to a strong Europe of justice.

In 2025, EJTN organised 947 activities, delivered 38,452 training days, and reached 13,915 judges, prosecutors, court staff and trainers from across Europe – an increase of 27% in participation from the previous year. The impact of these activities was made possible by the strong engagement of our members, who, in collaboration with partners, innovate and design training tailored to the real-life needs of the judiciary.

The digital transformation of justice continued to drive our activities. Building on work initiated the previous year, EJTN strengthened its strategic approach to digitalisation through innovative initiatives with the multiplier effect at their core. One key example was the EJTN Digital Ambassadors Programme, which empowered over 130 justice practitioners from more than 20 EU Member States to act as agents of digital change. This pioneering initiative, first launched in 2025 and now entering its second year, demonstrates that digital transformation is not only about tools, but also about empowering people and fostering a culture open to change.

Alongside digitalisation, EJTN remained committed to the Rule of Law, fundamental rights, competitiveness and gender equality in justice. Reflection on the wellbeing of justice practitioners was also launched, and we plan to explore this important theme in future activities. Partnerships with key institutions continued to grow in scope and impact, as demonstrated by the 2025 THEMIS Competition Grand Final held at the Court of Justice of the European Union and the second round of long-term training periods at the European Public Prosecutor's Office.

While this year had a special focus on celebrating EJTN's past achievements, it was also an opportunity to look ahead and prepare for the next 25 years of judicial training and cooperation. Together with key stakeholders, we initiated discussions on EJTN's next Strategic Plan and began shaping initiatives that will define the next chapter of our Network.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to all EJTN members, associate members, observers and partners for their commitment throughout 2025, as well as to the European Commission for their continuous support. I look forward to continuing to build on the great work achieved in 2025, and to working towards greater coordination of our members' actions in order to support the implementation of the Commission's Judicial Training Strategy 2025–2030.

I hope you enjoy reading this report!

2025 Highlights

The year 2025 was a very special milestone for the European Judicial Training Network. It marked 25 years of contributing to the creation of a strong Europe of Justice and delivering high-level judicial training activities across Europe. Below are just a few of the year's key highlights to remember.

EJTN at 25 celebrated throughout the year

In 2025, EJTN marked its 25th anniversary with celebrations held at key moments throughout the year, including a special anniversary event in Bordeaux, the birthplace of the Network. Partners such as the CJEU, Eurojust, the EPPO and the European Court of Human Rights joined the festivities, underlining EJTN's strong institutional ties and broad range of expertise. The anniversary year offered an opportunity to highlight EJTN's commitment to high-quality judicial training and cross-border cooperation, while reaffirming its vision for the future: shaping a future of justice that is increasingly digital, innovative and resilient.

The 2025 EJTN General Assembly elected key roles

The EJTN General Assembly, held in Gdańsk, Poland, played a central role in shaping the Network's governance through the election of key leadership positions, including the Secretary General, members of the Steering Committee and the Conveners of the Working Groups. These elections provided a solid foundation for advancing cooperation across the organisation's administrative bodies. Delegates and high-level guests also discussed the challenges and opportunities facing today's justice systems and debated EJTN's strategic goals and objectives for the 2028–2034 period.

2025 TNA shaped the future of judicial training

The 2025 EJTN Training Needs Assessment (TNA) brought together representatives of the European Commission, EJTN's strategic partners and Conveners of Working Groups to identify judicial training priorities for 2026 and beyond. Discussions highlighted core themes such as the Rule of Law, human rights, increased cooperation and the digital transformation of justice, including training on AI tools and e-learning platforms. The TNA discussions also took place in the context of the 25th anniversary of the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights, reinforcing the relevance of fundamental rights as a cornerstone of judicial training. Workshops explored the integration of digital skills into training and the alignment of activities with emerging EU legal priorities. The outcomes of the TNA fed directly into the development of the 2026 EJTN Catalogue of Training Activities, launched in October 2025, and informed EJTN's next multiannual strategic plan, further discussed at the 2025 General Assembly and Conference of Directors.

First EJTN Digital Ambassadors graduate as agents of digital change

In 2025, EJTN launched a pioneering initiative that resulted in the graduation of 132 Digital Ambassadors from 21 EU Member States. This milestone achievement advanced the digital transformation of justice by equipping participants with practical skills in digital tools, innovative methodologies and peer learning. Through a series of webinars, hybrid workshops and collaborative exercises, the EJTN Digital Ambassadors were prepared to drive change within their national institutions, creating a multiplier effect across Europe. The initiative reflects EJTN's strong commitment to innovation, cross-border cooperation, and preparing justice practitioners for an increasingly digital and interconnected legal environment.

The 2025 THEMIS Competition reached new heights in partnership with the CJEU

The 2025 THEMIS Competition achieved a major milestone as the competition's Grand Final was hosted for the first time at the Court of Justice of the European Union (CJEU), reinforcing the competition's European dimension and prestige. The competition, held across four semi-finals and the grand final, brought together 38 teams from 16 countries, composed of highly motivated young judges and prosecutors at the start of their careers. This year's edition also highlighted the 25th anniversary of the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights, as the legal question posed to the finalists focused specifically on the Charter. The winning team came from Romania, followed by a team from France and another Romanian team. In connection with the final, EJTN also launched the special THEMIS Annual Journal marking the competition's 15th edition.

The EJTN Exchange Programme turned 20 years

The EJTN Exchange Programme celebrated its 20th anniversary in 2025, marking two decades of promoting mutual trust, professional exchange, and cooperation between European justice practitioners. It was in 2005 that the European Parliament called for the creation of exchange activities for justice practitioners, which opened a new chapter in cross-border judicial cooperation within the EU. Over two decades, the Exchange Programme has grown into a cornerstone of European judicial training, having welcomed a total of more than 30,000 justice practitioners who have wanted to engage with peers from across Europe and deepen their understanding of the EU law. To mark these 20 years, a special compendium featuring best practices identified by exchange participants was launched.

Fundamental rights remained a key EJTN priority

EJTN's 25th anniversary year coincided with the 25th anniversary of the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, making the year a timely opportunity to highlight the central role of fundamental rights in EJTN's mission and daily work. Training activities across portfolios addressed core EU values and promoted awareness and the practical application of these principles among justice practitioners. A special communication campaign, featuring contributions from high-level participants such as European Commissioner Michael McGrath, further reinforced the importance of fundamental rights in judicial practice.

From our participants

“The one-year long-term traineeship at the CJEU enabled me to engage with the broader EU judicial environment and to work in a truly international and multilingual setting. As part of the programme’s knowledge-sharing dimension, I prepared and delivered a presentation on recent CJEU intellectual property case law at a seminar organised by the Latvian Patent Office in September 2025. This experience strengthened my understanding of the EU legal order and the role of the CJEU within it, enhanced my legal reasoning skills, and confirmed the exceptional value of the EJTN Exchange Programme for judicial professional development.”

Iлона Rūķe, Judge, Latvia

“With the ‘democratisation’ of Artificial Intelligence, it is essential that justice practitioners acquire basic knowledge so that, in their daily work, they can address and respond adequately to the challenges posed by AI, while always ensuring respect for human rights. The approach to AI and data protection delivered by EJTN proved to be both practical and comprehensive. In addition to highlighting essential issues (such as transparency and technological security), it demystified concerns surrounding the controlled use of AI systems. It was an enlightening and enriching training experience.”

Ana Silva, Judge, Portugal

“The THEMIS Competition was, for me, the most valuable experience as a judicial trainee. It laid the foundation for mutual trust and taught me that EU law is much closer to the national magistrate than it might seem at first glance. Moreover, this competition is not only about EU law and a better understanding of our role as future European magistrates; it is also a fun experience that allows us to connect with peers from other EU Member States.”

Teodor-Georgian Căpăţină, member of the 2025 THEMIS Competition winning team, Romania

“EJTN – quality content in a variety of formats! From hard-law topics such as state aid and public procurement to future outlooks (the inevitable AI...) and workplace issues such as resilience and the progress of generations, the activities are cutting-edge. And with choices ranging from traditional seminars, in person and online, to quick and easy Lunchtime Webinars, there is no excuse not to make full use of what is on offer. It has been a privilege to participate and to learn alongside colleagues from all over Europe.”

Sami Sarvilinna, Judge, Finland

“The AIAKOS Programme experience was highly enriching. It allowed me to connect with what matters most in international exchanges between legal professionals: the sharing of different ideas and perspectives, and the search for solutions to issues that raise questions both within domestic legal systems and at the European level. This exchange of ideas highlights the importance of communication among us: while we come from different national backgrounds, we all belong to a shared judicial culture.”

Lorenzo Cuvier, judicial trainee, France

“The training offered by EJTN has been an important step in my professional growth. Thanks to EJTN, I was able to improve my legal English and learn to use the European Court of Human Rights’ caselaw search tools with confidence. By meeting colleagues from other countries and comparing court practices, I found it much easier to handle international letters rogatory and the service of documents abroad. The focus on highly relevant topics helped me deepen my knowledge of European law and apply the interpretations of the highest courts in my daily work, no longer solely in a national but in a European context. The organisation of the courses is always impeccable, and the training offer is both varied and engaging.”

Viviana Mele, First instance civil judge, Italy

“Participating in EJTN training activities has given me a lot of experience for my professional development. The sessions (on-site or online) combined theoretical elements with practical insights and a strong European perspective, helping me to find ways to get better at what I do and to improve my skills in a concrete and applicable way. The exchanges with European colleagues from different European countries and jurisdictions were particularly enriching and useful, which reinforced the importance of continuous judicial training in a changing legal and digital context. In particular, my participation in the leadership training encouraged me to reflect on my judicial role, decision-making, and communication.”

Txomin Bellido Pérez, Judge, Spain

“Digital justice is less a question of tools than of judgment, responsibility, and system design. The EJTN AI Webinar Series demonstrated that meaningful integration of such tools in the judiciary depends on how workload, responsibility, and decision-making are structured under digital conditions. By shifting the focus away from technology alone, the training clarified that ethical responsibility and professional judgment are not by-products of digitalisation but core design requirements of digital justice systems.”

Sonja Ewerdt-Schlaak, Judicial Adviser, Germany
